Welcome to Saltmarshe Hall...

From 1067 right up until the 1970's the Saltmarshe Estate remained in the same family. In 2012, Kate and Roland Whyte moved in to Saltmarshe as the third family in 900 years to own the Hall. Together they have lovingly restored the current regency Grade II listed Hall with a dash of style and elegance, combining both traditional and contemporary charm.

Set in 17 acres of stunning parkland, Saltmarshe Hall is the perfect, distraction free place to hold your corporate event all year round. With several rooms available throughout the hall, you're sure to find a space that works best for you. Not only this, but our impeccable team will be on hand throughout the day to assist you, making sure that your time at Saltmarshe is as stress free as possible.

Meetings and Conferences

Get away from the office and make yourself at home, as we host your meeting or conference. Splendid leather conference chairs and a bespoke set up based on what it is that you really need.
